Living Green: Everything is Connected

Featuring award-winning images by Mattias Klum from over two decades of documenting some of our world's most vulnerable ecosystems, Living Green takes us on a journey to every continent--from Borneo to Galapagos, and the Baltic Sea to Antarctica--and presents us with an intimate look at diverse species from around the globe, each one unique and worthy of protection. Touching on issues such as global warming and loss of habitat and biodiversity, Klum's exposé demonstrates the power of photography as a tool for change, and inspires us to make a positive difference for the environment through our daily choices.
